

Police Circular Order No. 333/2009

Sub: E-mail Account.

In order to relieve the pressure on overloaded VHF/HF net work, and reduce the dependence on costly fax transmission, it has been decided to utilize modern innovation in Information Technology and introduce communication by email to meet the ever-growing communication requirement. Email communication is fast, reliable, convenient and widespread and is expected to meet the ever-growing communication requirement of Police efficiently and economically. Email Accounts have been opened for of all Police Officers of the rank of Superintendent of Police or above. The aforesaid email services will be provided by National Informatics Centre, Bhubaneswar which is a designated agency of Department of Information Technology, Government of India.

All the routine and unclassified correspondence may now be sent by emails. Classified and secret correspondence will continue to be sent as before through normal channels. A list of email accounts with Login Id and email Id provided to Police officers of the rank of S.P and above is given in the Annexure-I. Internet connection is required for accessing the email accounts, and the concerned officers may obtain internet connection by Internet Service providers like BSNL or others.

All Police officers in the rank of S.Ps and above may familiarize themselves regarding procedure for operation of email account. In order to maintain a record of the emails sent through their respective email accounts, it is advised that office copies of emails duly signed by the concerned officer may be kept in a log file. It will be the responsibility of the concerned officer to maintain the secrecy of the password of the email account and to ensure that his email account is not misused. It is expected that all the email account holders will check their email accounts at least three a day preferably during the following hours (1) 10.00 AM to 10.30 AM (2) 1.00 PM to 1.30 PM (3) 4.30 PM to 5.00 PM.
