

POLICE CIRCULAR ORDER No. 178

It has been brought to my notice that requisite number of Police staff are not being deputed to show houses and other places of entertainment for maintaining law and order. As far as my knowledge goes, officers and men are usually posted to such places for this purpose. Of course, the number of officer or men cannot be rigidly fixed to meet all circumstances and normally one or two Constables may suffice for this purpose which may be supplemented or reduced as the situation requires. It is needless to say that maintenance of law and order at all places of public gathering and particularly at the show houses is the responsibility of Police. In this connection P.M. Rule 6 (b) will be relevant.
